We have a secret we almost don't want to share. But in one place; over mountains, past brows, in a valley or river, around pastures and neighborhood sidewalks, under very wide skies, a creative spirit lives here. And if you don't know if you have one, you can find it in Chattooga County. You can be reignited with it here, or sparked for the first time. Released into a slower pace, you may hear it again, or finally tune in. Sure, you can ride on a horse here, or put in on the river and find your speed. Jarrod has a place on top of a mountain with a world class bike trail and camping center, and you can definitely eat some top-notch barbecue. Howard Finster's Paradise Garden brings people from all over the planet.

And there's nature, and it is beautiful, land stretching out far and wide, it has a rhythm, some great thrift shops and a Waffle House. There are more ways than bees have knees to get away, leave the phone on the counter, and revive. But here, you can just be, and leave feeling better. The people are generous, and most things are closed on Sundays.

Angel Country. It's nice up here.
